Quite obviously a disappointing entry despite us moving the trial to avoid the World Cup match featuring England. Thanks to James Morphett for the use of his land, especially on such a hot and dry day and also to the six observers who supported the event, Martin Peck, David Taylor and Ian Quinn who rarely miss one of our trials, Tony Bleasdale, Pete Clibburn who gave up his ride to observe and your secretary. Thanks also to Terry the caterer who cor to support our events, he has become a valued contributor to the club. Our next trial is a Sunday event on July 29 at Anna's Ghyll, Brookhouse, which is a great venue and one which has seen significant changes to the streams following the wet winter we had. The parking there is also much improved. The usual format will be in place, all we need is the riders to support us. Robert Taylor will be setting out with his crew and he has some good stuff planned.
