Not a bad turnout for our first two day trial with 60 entries on day one.

A little confusion with section two on Sunday, which is why the results aren't in the usual section by section format won't be using this format for the results again as long as I'm doing them.

Apologies for the unusual delay in posting the results, needless to say we won't be using punchcards again anytime s

Thanks very much to those who observed, set out, and organised.

And thanks to David Matthews for providing the catering.

There is one punchcard without a number on it, if you think this is yours then let me know; there also was one half punchcard missing, so if you see * it means that the results aren't precise, there an average of the available score
